TRUMP SUMMIT IN DOUBT AGAIN

CANCEL THE HOOKERS

HE'S NOT COMING...

NORTH Korean President Kim Jong Un's right-hand man Kim Yong Chol has arrived in America for talks about re-establishing a timetable for his nation's historic summit with U.S. President Donald Trump.

But judging by our EXCLUSIVE snap of Kim, seen altering arrangements for the talks, the prospects of a face-to-face meeting still look remote!

FATHER'S THREAT TO 'CHOP UP' HIS DAUGHTER

A COUPLE who lured their teenage daughter to Bangladesh to try to make her wed and have a baby with her first cousin have been found guilty of forced marriage offences.

Leeds Crown Court heard the woman, 19, who cannot be named, was seen "running" from her relatives during a rescue bid by the British consulate.

She had previously told the jury that she endured "physical abuse" in the incident.

After rejecting the marriage, the teenager said her father even threatened to "chop her up in 18 seconds" if she did not comply.

The victim had managed to contact her boyfriend in the UK while in Bangladesh, who was able to get in touch with authorities.

The court heard the victim, from Yorkshire, was taken out of her school during term time for what she was told was a family holiday to Bangladesh – where forced marriages are illegal – on July 3, 2016 and a date was set for the wedding on July 21.

Just days after arriving she was told by her father that he had found a husband for her.

The victim told the court: "He was trying to get me to say yes, but at no point did I say yes. I thought it was disgusting because it was my first cousin and stood my ground."

The teenager, from Leeds, was supposedly told that rejecting the proposal would "bring shame" on her parents. She said: "As the days went by, verbal abuse turned to physical abuse."

She also said her mother told they were going to leave her there for a year so she would get pregnant so that he (the first cousin) could get a visa.

The parents will be sentenced on June 18.

3 DEAD IN CITY TERROR ATTACK

A KNIFE-wielding loon stabbed two police officers in Liege, Belgium – then stole their weapons before shooting them and a bystander dead.

The man approached two female officers from behind while carrying a knife and stabbed them several times.

It was reported he had shouted: "Allahu Akbar!" as he shot and killed the two officers and a civilian.

After carrying out three brutal murders, the attacker took a female cleaner hostage in a nearby high school.

Footage later shows him running out of the school with two guns blazing before he was shot dead while sitting in a parked car.

Several officers were injured in the battle.

The man, who is said to have been on a day release from a nearby prison, had approached the officers at around 10.30am, slashed their throats.

He was last night named as Benjamin Herman, 36, an alleged Muslim convert who'd been radicalised in jail.

The victims were named as police officers Lucile Garcia, 45, and Soraya Belkacemi, 53, and 22-year-old Cyril Vangrieken, who was shot dead while sitting in a parked car.

A senior official at the federal prosecutor's office last night said "there are indications it could be a terror attack".

However, Belgium's crisis centre said it saw no reason to raise the country's terror threat alert, just for now.

When asked about a report that the attack was terror-related, Liege city hall official Michel Firket said: "Police are investigating. There are no formal conclusions."

A spokeswoman for the city mayor's office, Laurence Comminette, told reporters that the children at the school were all safe.

Prime Minister Charles Michel said only that "there was a serious incident" as he rushed to the crisis centre.

Yves Stevens, of Belgium's federal crisis centre, said security in Liege was under control, and there was no reason yet to raise the national terror threat level.

Stay out of EU budget: Rees-Mogg

LEADING Brexiteer Jacob Rees-Mogg has warned the Government not to allow the UK to become involved in discussions on the EU's budget after 2020.

A report claims the European Council – representing member states – has invited the UK to help determine the EU's £1trillion budget up to 2027, because officials believe it will keep paying billions of euros to Brussels for years after Brexit.

But Mr Rees-Mogg said future payments should be for "stand-alone" projects like the Erasmus student exchange programme, and not as part of the overall EU budget.

He said: "I think we need to be very careful about being in the budget discussions."

"If you are in the discussions, is there a risk that you begin to take responsibility for decisions and then you find that you get a bill at the end of it?"

"People want a clean Brexit. We are not interested in, and we have no standing with regard to, the EU's total budget."

Firefighters vote to strike

FIREFIGHTERS in the West Midlands have voted by 9-1 in favour of strikes in a row over contracts for new entrants.

The Fire Brigades Union urged the region's fire authority to withdraw the contracts or face the threat of industrial action.

Around 1,100 union members were balloted, returning a 90 per cent vote for strikes on a turnout of 82 per cent.

Matt Wrack, FBU general secretary, said: "This is an overwhelming result. It shows the huge strength of feeling among firefighters and emergency control staff."

He said the contracts were "exploitative" and would mean firefighters entering the service would have to take on work outside the agreed role of a firefighter.

EDL founder Robinson jailed

THE founder of the English Defence League Tommy Robinson has been jailed for 13 months after being arrested outside Leeds Crown Court last week, court officials confirmed.

Contempt

Robinson – real name Stephen Christopher Yaxley-Lennon – was sentenced to 10 months for contempt of court and a further three months for breaching the terms of a previous suspended sentence.

He was arrested on Friday for contempt of court after using social media to broadcast details of an ongoing trial which is subject to blanket reporting restrictions.

Reporting restrictions were also placed on details of Robinson's sentence but were lifted following a legal challenge yesterday.

Following his arrest his supporters protested outside the gates of Downing Street, while others took to social media where they were supported by right wing sympathisers in the US.

Lily: I was a sex cheat!

NO SHAME:
Singer has new book coming out

POP star Lily Allen admitted to CHEATING on her ex-husband Sam Cooper while she was on tour in America.

The 33-year-old hitmaker has been opening up about her life ahead of the release of her latest album, titled No Shame.

Singer Lily revealed she 'lost her mind' following the release of her 2014 album Sheezus, which also led to the breakdown of her marriage to Sam, 39.

She confessed: "I lost my sense of self. I lost my identity. I was being a bad mum. I was being bad at my job."

Ketamine

"I'd wake up on a tour bus in the middle of Wisconsin and be so hungover. I cheated on my husband."

"All I wanted to do was be with my kids. I wasn't even making any money."

"I lost my marriage, I lost my house, I lost my mind. I literally had to hit rock bottom and build myself back up."

Her revelations came just weeks after she confessed to being kicked out of an awards ceremony for taking too much ketamine.

Telling fans on social media about it, Lily wrote: "Someone gave me a line of what I assumed to be cocaine at the Glamour awards once, but it turned out to be ketamine."

BINKY: I'M HOMELESS!

POSH reality fettle Binky Felstead has been left HOMELESS after floods wrecked her multi-million pound gaff in London.

After a huge downpour in the capital this week, gallons of water poured into the Made In Chelsea's babe's house.

She has been forced out of her recently renovated pad so that workmen can fix the damage.

The 26-year-old (right) said: "Seriously though, we are homeless at the moment, quite a stressful process."

"Being grown up is not fun."

Harry & Meghan no TV match for William & Kate

RATINGS for the royal wedding of Prince Harry and Meghan Markle were a third LOWER than those for the marriage of Harry's brother William to Kate Middleton.

A combined audience of 11.5million people watched Harry and Meghan (above) tie the knot on May 19 – 8.9m on BBC One and 2.6m on ITV.

But 17.6m tuned in for the wedding of the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge in April 2011 – 13.6m on BBC One and 4m on ITV.

It means the combined audience for Harry's wedding was 35 per cent down on the equivalent figure for his brother.

Harry also failed to pull in as many viewers as his uncle Prince Edward, whose wedding in June 1999 to Sophie, Countess of Wessex, enjoyed a combined BBC One/ITV audience of 14.8m.

The new figures – published by Barb – are consolidated ratings, and include those who recorded the wedding and watched it up to seven days later.

A WOMAN broke her arm during an arm-wrestling competition at a Young Farmers' event.

The 20-year-old was taking part in the contest at the festival in Cumbria when her female opponent slammed her arm down.

Paramedic Andrew Dickinson said: "She broke her arm wrestling with another girl."

"It was a bad break and she was in a lot of pain."

"The other girl realised she had broken her arm and fainted."

"The team were straight onto her – she was fine."

The woman was taken to Cumberland Infirmary in Carlisle by ambulance.

Both were attending the Young Farmers' Clubs Northern District Field Day in Irthington.

Mr Dickinson added: "Other than that, the day was fantastic."

SNAPCHAT ADDICT SET UP LOVER'S MURDER THEN FILMED IT

A FEMALE "Snapchat addict" orchestrated the murder of her on-off boyfriend, then posted a video of him dying in a pool of blood, a court heard.

Fatima Khan, 20, is accused of plotting with a rival for her affections to kill Afghan asylum seeker Khalid Safi, 18.

Mr Safi was repeatedly stabbed in the chest by 19-year-old Raza Khan in North Acton, north London, on the evening of December 1 2016, jurors were told.

Rather than calling for an ambulance, Fatima Khan allegedly filmed him as he laying dying in the street.

She posted it on Snapchat with the caption: "This is what happens when you f*** with me", the Old Bailey heard.

Jurors were shown the disturbing footage as well as CCTV images allegedly showing the fatal fight between Mr Safi and Raza Khan.

Prosecutor Kate Bex QC said the two men had fought over Fatima Khan a few years earlier, during which Mr Safi was hurt. And in the run-up to the killing, Fatima Khan had been in daily contact with Raza Khan via Snapchat, jurors heard.

She became upset when Mr Safi bought her a watch and presented it to her at her home five days before his death, jurors heard.

Rival

She threw the gift out of a window because her family did not know about the relationship, Ms Bex said.

She said Raza Khan was "a rival for her affections" and Fatima Khan was "essential to the success of the plan" to get rid of Mr Safi.

She said: "She told Raza

Khan where to find Khalid Safi and she ensured Mr Safi was still there by the time Mr Khan travelled to the scene."

On the day of the killing, Mr Safi and Fatima Khan had gone to a Costa Coffee near to her work at Vigilant Security in North Acton.

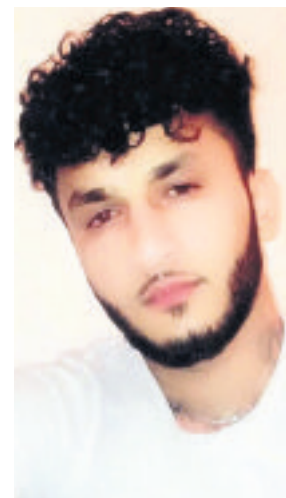

The couple were outside the coffee shop when Raza Khan arrived with a knife.

Raza Khan was injured in the fight but calmly left the scene and his whereabouts remain unknown.

Fatima Khan, from Ilford, north London, told police she was addicted to Snapchat.

She denies murder and conspiracy to cause grievous bodily harm.

Trio flogged lethal drugs on dark web

THREE men are facing jail for setting up a mail order business selling two potentially lethal drugs hundreds of times stronger than morphine.

Lee Childs, 45, Jake Levene, 22, and Mandy Lowther, 21, flogged their wares on the dark web under the names UKBargains – making £163,474 in five months. They sold fentanyl – which is 100 times stronger than morphine – and carfentanyl – which is 100 times stronger again – to customers as far away as Australia, Canada, Argentina and Singapore.

In February 2017, Lowther was admitted to hospital in a coma caused by a hypoxic brain injury linked to exposure to the two drugs. He recovered.

Lowther admitted two counts of supplying and two counts of exporting Class A drugs, while Levene and Childs (above) previously admitted the same charges.

Sentencing will be on September 7 at Leeds Crown Court.

CINEMA-goers in the UK are staying far, far away from the latest Star Wars film.

Solo: A Star Wars Story took just £7.6million during its first five days on release, according to its distributors Disney.

It is the lowest amount made by any Star Wars film on its opening since the franchise was revived in the late 1990s.

The Last Jedi, released only five months ago, took £28m across its four-day UK opening, while 2016's Rogue One notched up £17.3m.

Solo may have suffered by being in cinemas so soon after The Last Jedi.

TELLY EXCLUSIVE Holly and I love to get SH*T-FACED!

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

TV PRESENTER Philip Schofield has revealed he regularly gets "SHITFACED" with his This Morning co-host Holly Willoughby.

Phil, 56, described Holly, 37, as the "sister he never had" and revealed exactly what the pair get up to away from the ITV studios.

He said: "Holly is like the younger sister I never had, so I couldn't imagine a time when we would not get on."

Margaritas

"We both go to Portugal with our families in the summer holidays – we don't go on holiday together, but we're in the same place."

"So, we do that quite a bit and we see each other socially in the UK quite a lot."

"Occasionally we'll do lunch together, too."

"We blow off steam occasionally, find somewhere that does nice margaritas and get proper shitfaced."

Phil says that he loves working alongside national treasure Holly and reckons they're more like family.

Silver-haired hunk Phil said: "It always helps if you like the person that you are working with and I adore Holly."

"We admire and respect each other enormously."

"We have the same sense of humour and we bring out the best in each other."

LOVELY Michelle Keegan was forced to bat away more questions about her long-distance marriage as she emerged from Radio 1 studios where she had been promoting her new series of BBC's military drama Our Girl.

Michelle, 30, continues to spend most of her time apart from husband Mark Wright, whose career is flourishing as a presenter on LA-based showbiz show Extra while she insists she is 'too much of a homebird' to relocate.

She told fans: "It's not our problem. Everybody else makes more of it than we do. We are constantly in touch, everything's fine."

Michelle looked super summery as she showed off her sun-kissed complexion in a cropped yellow top adorned with dainty flowers, paired with a pair of tight jeans that clung to her arse.

Ozzy: I'm dying for UK return

ROCK legend Ozzy Osbourne says he's desperate to move back to England as he's sick of the American media.

The 69-year-old Black Sabbath singer (above) currently lives in Los Angeles with his wife Sharon, 65.

He said: "I'd like to move back to England one day. The weather is great here, but it's so easy to fall into the L.A. bullshit."

"All the newspapers say I'm ill. F**k off! I'm on the front of the National Enquirer: 'Ozzy is dying, his last words were 'Eugh'."

Despite his sunshine lifestyle in the States, Ozzy has visited his hometown of Aston, Birmingham, a couple of times.

He added: "I don't get to go back very often, but I went back for a BBC show. There's a guy living in the house I grew up in."

"They charge people £200 to sleep in the bedroom I had as a kid."

Ozzy is set to return to the stage and is lined up as one of the main acts at Download Festival on June 10.

Becker and wife in split

FORMER tennis champ Boris Becker and his wife Lilly have separated.

A lawyer for the pair confirmed the break-up of the three-time Wimbledon winner, 50, and his 41-year-old model wife.

Lawyer Christian-Oliver Moser said: "The decision after a 13-year-long relationship and nine years of marriage wasn't an easy one."

Mr Moser said the couple's main concern now was the wellbeing of their son, Amadeus.

Becker made recent headlines with rumours about financial problems.

Tulisa on the comeback trail

POP babe Tulisa is planning a HUGE comeback, after years of hiding from the spotlight.

Just five years ago she rose to fame with her band N-Dubz, was crowned the 'World's Sexiest Woman' and even replaced national treasure Cheryl Tweedy as a judge on The X Factor.

However, after a string of controversies, including being arrested and cleared of supplying Class A drugs, her stock fell.

Despite her problems, Tulisa, 29, is now reportedly planning her comeback and a source said: "Tulisa's public scandals turned her life upside down."

"She wanted to disappear from the spotlight, but it's been a few years and she's now finally ready to attempt a comeback."

"She's matured, calmed down her private life, and got rid of the drama. She's ready for her career to take off again and she wants to be back in the charts and on TV."

"She's going to shake off her old image and reinvent herself as classier and more pared-back. She's got a trusted group of advisors, so there'll be no drama."

It's rumoured her pal Simon Cowell, 58, is also supporting her return and has everything crossed she'll make a real success of it.

EX-LOVER'S HELL OVER JILTED TEEN GIRL'S RAPE LIES

WASTING POLICE TIME:
Hannah Sandover

A TEEN who falsely claimed her ex-lover had raped her after they split has been convicted of wasting police time.

Hannah Sandover, 18, told a pal her ex had spiked her water bottle and forced himself on her in the back of a car because he had refused to rekindle their romance.

Her ex, also 18, was kept in police custody for five-and-a-half hours and was forced to undergo intimate tests just because "she wanted to get back at him".

Sandover said she got into the back of a car to stretch out, as she had stomach pains, before her former boyfriend "jumped on her".

She even claimed to police one of her friends was sitting in the front of the car, but was listening to music.

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

But her web of lies unravelled after she was taken to a clinic for an intimate examination and she started to change her story.

Consensual

When her family began to question her bogus claims, Sandover admitted she made it all up and that the pair had in fact had consensual sex.

Yesterday she admitted a charge of wasting police time when she appeared at Salisbury Magistrates' Court, Wilts.

Prosecutor Ryan Seneviratne said: "Miss Sandover is extremely lucky that she didn't get charged with perverting the course of justice."

He said it was only due to her age and the fact she has no previous convictions, adding:

"Her ex-boyfriend has said his confidence in approaching girls has been completely ruined."

"She had many times to say the allegations were lies, but she didn't."

Her lawyer, Moses Tawo, said Sandover was "too scared to admit she had been lying".

He added: "The only person she told the story to was her friend."

"She never meant for it to be taken to the police and couldn't tell me why she had told lies."

"She has faced some health issues. When the only relationship she had with anyone ended, she panicked, which she now shows remorse for."

Sandover was bailed and will be sentenced on June 8.

Jilted lover got woman

to pose then sent shot to boss

A JILTED boyfriend has admitted sending a naked picture of his ex to her boss at the world-famous film company where she worked.

Philip Simpson, 57, persuaded the woman to pose explicitly during a FaceTime video call he made with her after telling her: "If you love me, you'll do it."

But he then took a screenshot of it without her knowing, and when they eventually split up he sent it to her boss, who was also a friend of hers.

The victim had flown in from California to give evidence but Phillips pleaded guilty after being told that he would not go to prison.

Distress

Sentencing him for disclosing a private sexual photograph with intent to cause distress, Judge Phillip Matthews told him: "There's absolutely no doubt in my mind that you caused very serious distress by disclosing that photograph to her friend."

Prosecutor James Dick told Isleworth Crown Court: "Her friend received a message from the defendant which said words to the effect, 'childish but guess the worker' but identifying her place of work."

"He [had] told her that he wanted to see her naked and he wanted an explicit picture. She was initially resistant to the idea but he persuaded her, saying 'if you love me you will do this'."

"It appears he took a screenshot of the video on his mobile phone. She would not have expected any lasting record of it to be made."

"They had an argument over a video call, the defendant referred to broken promises and said he would always love her but he would delete her on social media."

Simpson, of Northwood, west London was given five-months' suspended for two years, while the judge also handed him a five-year restraining order and told him to carry out 150 hours unpaid work.

The 26-year-old formed a relationship with the woman after they met on Instagram.

She told her parents about her feelings for him, but they decided that Ali was not suitable to become her husband.

Despite this, the couple continued with their relationship and the defendant filmed them having sex and took photos of her naked.

But when Ali found out she was marrying another man, he threatened to send the videos and photos to her father and relatives.

Alky Steph's set for return to Hollyoaks

ACTRESS Stephanie Davis is set to RETURN to Hollyoaks, just three years after she was allegedly AXED for being PISSED on set.

The Celebrity Big Brother star (above), 25, will reprise her role as Sinead O'Connor on the Channel 4 soap and said she's thrilled to have been given a second chance.

She said: "I'm over the moon to be given this amazing opportunity and so excited to bring feisty Sinead back to Hollyoaks."

"I just want to get stuck into learning my first scripts. I can't wait to be on set and back acting again."

It's been a difficult few years for the reality star, who had one of the most tumultuous celebrity flings with Jeremy McConnell, 28.

Their relationship included public spats, domestic violence and a restraining order.

In February, Stephanie bravely confessed to being a recovering alcoholic, and had sought help after ending of her turbulent relationship with the Irish model.

SOCIAL WORKER SENT SELF-W**K VIDEO TO CLIENT

A BISEXUAL social worker who sent a client a video of her pleasuring herself after they began an affair has been struck off.

Samantha Girt was caught out because the film showed her distinctive rosary bead tattoo on her left hand.

Fling

Girt, who was employed by Milton Keynes Council, sent her lover a series of WhatsApp messages in a month-long fling.

In a close-up video the mother of four, can be seen masturbating in front of a camera.

The social worker told her lover to keep the affair secret but was outed when the woman told another social worker what had been going on.

Jessica Mond-Wedd, for the Health and Care Professions Tribunal Service, said another social worker found sexual text messages and a video on the patient's phone of Ms Girt masturbating.

Describing the hand, Ms Mond-Wedd said: "A video close up of her hand showed a rosary tattoo.

"This tattoo was described as being identical to one found on Ms Girt's hand."

Intimate

She added: "Ms Girt was arrested for misconduct in public office, however, it was decided that her actions did not cross the threshold for charging and no case was brought."

Later in 2016, Girt was moved off the case but started to send intimate emails a male client.

She became so infatuated with him she drafted a later saying she would move in with him and look after his children.

Ms Mond-Wedd, said: "This is a serious shortcoming of what would be preferred in the circumstances."

Marian Killen, chair at the panel, said: "Not only was there dishonesty but also persistent and sustained sexually motivated conduct."

Girt did not attend the hearing and was struck off the register.

PISSSED 'N BROKE!

THE true cost of a night on the lash has been revealed – and it'll sober you up.

A survey has disclosed the nation's 18-35-year-olds now go out on average twice a week with friends, budgeting fifty quid for a night out – around £5,200 a year on average.

But a hapless 78 per cent routinely go over their budget after the alcohol starts flowing, splashing a further £1,389 a year on things they did NOT plan to spend money on.

According to the poll, young Brits fork out an additional £340 a year on fast food they regret the next day. And as much as £174 is splashed out on rounds of shots they wish they'd never bought – and £280 on taxis when they intended to catch the last bus or train.

In an average year, young Brits will also "lend" £145 to pals which they will never see again, fork out £88 paying for friends to get into clubs and blow £170 treating friends to meals or food.

But the majority are filled with regret the next day when the hangover kicks in, with 77 per cent saying they always wake up with a feeling of dread about how much money they have spent.

Wasted

As a result, almost half of those in relationships say they lie to their partner over how much money they have wasted.

Some 85 per cent of the 2,000 polled by sellmymobile.com said they often think their money could be put to better use than on nights out, with as many as 90 per cent complaining they are in debt due to their lifestyle.

A further 20 percent have been hard up in the past due to their boozing and partying.

The poll showed 27 per cent of Brits have smashed their phone on night out in the past year, while 26 per cent have ruined an expensive piece of clothing.

Vix Leyton for sellmymobile.com said: "It's not a shock that Brits make some questionable decisions when a drink has been taken, but that tipsy generosity, coupled with carelessness such as losing handbags and smashing phones can soon add up."

Roseanne's Barred herself over Tweet

TRUMP fan Roseanne Barr has said she is leaving Twitter and apologised for racist tweets about former Obama White House adviser Valerie Jarrett.

Barr, 65, linked her to the Muslim Brotherhood and mocked her appearance with a reference to the movie Planet Of The Apes.

She wrote on Twitter: "I apologise. I am leaving Twitter. I apologise to Valerie Jarrett and to all Americans. I am truly sorry for making a bad joke about her politics and her looks."

"I should have known better. Forgive me."

Cheryl! snubs Simon

LOVE-HATE
ACT: Simon
and Cheryl

SHE RULES OUT X FACTOR RETURN

POP star Cheryl Tweedy WON'T be returning to The X Factor and claims she wants something 'fresh' to work on.

Cheryl, 34, has opted to sign up for new BBC1 show The Greatest Dancer, where she'll mentor dancers rather than singers.

But she hasn't snubbed Simon Cowell completely, as his company will produce The Greatest Dancer, which will air later this year.

Pleased

A source close to Cheryl said: "She has done The X Factor lots of times and she wants something new and fresh to get going on."

"Starring on The X Factor would undoubtedly have helped push that, but she also has her son Bear to think about in terms of how much time she spends working.

"Simon loves working with Cheryl. They have a love-hate relationship, which the viewers do love, but it isn't to be this year."

However, it seems Simon is just as pleased that Cheryl has gone for his dancing show, as he reportedly didn't want her back on The X Factor judging panel.

Rumours started circulating that a return for Cheryl could be on the cards after Nicole Scherzinger was sent packing earlier this year.

Hitmaker Rita Ora, 27, is rumoured to be one of Simon's options, as are Craig David, 37, and Mel B, 42.

'Selfie' women hit by lightning

TWO women have suffered serious injuries after lightning struck them while they were taking selfies.

Police said the women, aged 23 and 21, were found lying on the ground with their clothing torn in the Bochum, Germany, on Sunday evening.

Paramedics had to resuscitate the older woman and she remains in intensive care with life-threatening injuries.

The 21-year-old told police the last thing she remembered was walking with her friend on a footpath and recording each other with their smartphones.

A police spokesman said: "Clearly they were surprised by the storm."

The younger woman was also taken to hospital but her life is not thought to be endangered.

Leanne CROW

SPORT favourite Leanne Crow has a SKY-HIGH SEX DRIVE and needs to MASTURBATE every single day.

The Sunderland-born stunna boasts a pair of jaw-dropping 34H norks and confessed: "I have very sensitive nipples – they get hard in a second."

And 28-year-old Leanne uses her sex toys on a daily basis and orgasms every time.

She said: "I have a very high sex drive, so I masturbate at least once a day – and I come every time. I use dildos mainly, I love them."

"I'm highly sexed, so I have to masturbate. I have never come through a guy penetrating me, which is a bit of a pain."

"I usually end up playing with myself and that's how I come."

"I always enjoy the feeling of sex, though."

OAP FACES YEAR IN JAIL FOR WAITRESS BUM SLAP

SMACK:
Ms Adair got hit by Locke (left)

A 65-YEAR-OLD man is facing up to a year in prison after he slapped a waitress on the bottom in a restaurant.

Clarence H. Locke Jr. and his wife had just sat down at a booth in the restaurant when his wife got up to use the bathroom.

Waitress Jayme Adair, 23, has described how she had taken a drinks order from Locke when he leaned out of the booth and smacked her bum.

Shock

He was charged the same day with forcible touching, punishable with up to a year in jail or three years' probation.

Ms Adair, of Rome, New York, said: "I was in shock. I've never had anything like that happen before."

"The customer and his wife came in together. I didn't recognise him by his face but when he walked in he said 'Hello Jayme'.

By WENDY THOMAS

"His wife went to the restroom and I went over and got the couple's drinks."

"As I went over to take his order, he reached as far as he could to reach me and smack my butt pretty hard."

"I froze up. It was degrading and embarrassing, and completely out of the blue."

"I got super upset about it. I just told my manager to get him out and get him away from me, then the cops came and got him arrested."

"So many women go through this and it is not fair."

"I did nothing wrong and I did not deserve that."

W*cking man had masseuse in tears

A MASSAGE therapist who said a client wanked off in front of her says cops told her it was all part of the job when she complained.

Claudia Cavaliere went to police after a client requested a full-body massage and then proceeded to masturbate in front of her.

She said: "I couldn't speak. I was crying. I was hyperventilating. I was sitting on the floor in the corner of the room, panicking."

She claims police in Montreal tried to dissuade her from filing a report.

The investigator told her: "A friend of mine who owns a massage place would say it happens all the time."

Cavaliere told the officer: "It's scary. He could be doing this to so many other women."

TELLY presenter Anita Rani is desperate for Meghan Markle to appear on Countryfile.

The 40-year-old made the plea while she filmed a three-part Countryfile special about the Royal Estates of Windsor, Balmoral and Sandringham.

Anita (above) said: "Please, can we get Meghan on Countryfile. She can hang out with me. I don't know how well she knows the British countryside."

“But I am the one presenter on Countryfile who is learning every time I’m on a shoot, because I live in London and I grew up in Bradford. “Meghan can come on Countryfile and I can take her under my wing.”

Anita reckons Prince Harry and Meghan tying the knot has had an impact on Britain and its people.

She added: "The Royal Wedding was a real statement. I think for a lot of people in the country it felt, 'Finally, we're included in this, we're affected in this'."

DEUCE STAR MAGGIE: GIVE ME A REAL ORGASM

By BECCA STUBBS becca@sundaysport.co.uk

ACTRESS Maggie Gyllenhaal says she insisted on a REAL ORGASM being shown in her TV series The Deuce.

Maggie, 40, stars in the HBO series about the porn industry in the 1970s—and the Hollywood stunna wanted her scenes to be as authentic as possible.

The busty brunette told the show's creator that she wanted to highlight the difference between a 'genuine' orgasm and one that is faked for performance reasons.

She said: "I was like, 'This orgasm needs to be the realest orgasm ever—one that takes 30 seconds, that's very quiet, that's super internal, that's just about her'."

"I thought about that, then I went in and did that on TV."

A scene had to be written for her that required Maggie to perform a realistic female orgasm.

SHIT FLIES IN PRISON PROTEST

INMATES at one of Britain's toughest prisons are staging a DIRTY PROTEST – by flinging POO out of the windows.

Lags at HMP Long Lartin, a Category A prison, are using makeshift loos in their cells due to a lack of facilities, a report claims.

The prison, near Evesham, Worcs, has housed a number of high-profile inmates including radical Islamic cleric Abu Hamza and pop paedo Ian Watkins of Lostprophets fame.

Inspectors told how ageing facilities meant that more than half of the 620 inmates had no access to a toilet in their cell.

Inmates' cells are electronically unlocked during the night so prisoners can relieve themselves – which has led to lengthy waits among the lags.

A report revealed: "One prisoner at a time was allowed out for up to 15 minutes to use the toilet or shower at night, with up to seven other prisoners waiting in a queue."

Buckets

"As a result, some had to wait up to two hours to access toilets, and buckets were provided in cells if they could not wait."

"Prisoners sometimes resorted to defecating

By JAYNE FERGUSON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

into plastic bags and throwing these out of their cell windows, or urinating out of cell windows to avoid having a soiled bucket in their cell."

The Victorian practice of "slopping out" was abolished more than two decades ago.

HM Inspectorate of Prisons described the practice as "degrading".

It revealed that the government knocked back a funding bid by prison bosses to install toilets in all cells.

One insider said: "The whole thing has turned to shit."

BUSTY blonde bombshell Robyn Lambert reckons SHAGGING is the ideal cure for a hangover.

Robyn, 26, from Milton Keynes, says bonking is the perfect way to get over a heavy, boozy night.

She said: "I'm more of a morning girl – there's nothing I love more than a quickie to start the day off well. Sex in the morning is great because it refreshes you."

"It's the ultimate cure for a hangover too! I always feel better after a session, it takes away my headache every time."

However, when 34E lovely Robyn does get down and dirty, she loves being in control and climbing on top of the lucky fella.

She added: "I like being on top. I'm quite dominant in the bedroom, so I love to climb on and have my way!"

"It's a known fact that it feels amazing for women because it hits the spot perfectly. And every guy I've been with absolutely loves the view."

Who could blame them?

'LOOSE' KAYE LOVES A CHOCOLATE FINGER!

PARTIAL:
Presenter
Kaye is a biscuit fan

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

THE saucy panellists on ITV's Loose Women took the biscuit with some very naughty sexual innuendo yesterday.

And host Kaye Adams caused a stir when she confessed she was partial to a "chocolate finger"!

The saucy remark came after each panellist had been assigned a particular biscuit.

Marking National Biscuit Day, Kaye reintroduced the panel by comparing them to classic biccies – Stacey Solomon was a pink wafer while Janet Street-Porter was a ginger nut and Anne Diamond "loved a good old Hobnob".

And Kaye herself? "I'm always partial to a chocolate finger," she grinned.

It followed an on-air apology by Janet for swearing on another part of the show during a discussion about age.

The journalist, 71, was talking about Aussie pop star Kylie Minogue

GOOD PISS-UP:
Co-host Janet

marking her 50th by stripping naked behind a guitar.

And it got the panel discussing how they feel about getting older.

Janet said: "I don't fear anything about ageing at all. I've had great parties when I was 50, when I was 60, when I was 70."

"But I agree with Anne – the day itself doesn't make very much difference. In fact, when I was 70, I was going to be out of the country so I had a party in the summer, in Scotland.

"I went fishing during the day and then had a piss-up."

Janet immediately caught her sweary slip and threw her hand over her mouth as her fellow panellists giggled.

She said: "I'm very sorry, I apologise, that was a bad word."

Home & Away star Cornelia dead aged 77

BRITISH-born actress Cornelia Frances, best-known for her role in Oz soap Home and Away, has died aged 77.

Born in Liverpool, she'd been in the entertainment industry for more than half a century after training at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama.

After moving to Australia Cornelia became a stalwart on TV, starring as Morag Bellingham in Home and Away as well as hosting the Aussie version of The Weakest Link.

Ray Meagher, who played her on-screen brother Alf Stewart, said: "Cornie was an incredibly loved and valued member of our cast over many years."

"We had a moment of silence for her on set this morning and she'll be sadly missed by both cast and crew."

Her career also saw her take on roles in Sons and Daughters, The Young Doctors and cult drama Prisoner.

In an interview at the start of the year, Frances revealed she was battling cancer.

Fact me!

FORMER Yank president Richard Nixon was an accomplished musician who could play the piano, accordion, violin, saxophone and clarinet.

Vesuvius victim crushed by rock

OFFICIALS at the Pompeii archaeological site have discovered the skeleton of a man crushed by an enormous stone while trying to flee the eruption of Mount Vesuvius in 79AD.

They released a photograph showing the skeleton protruding from beneath a large block of stone that may have been part of a door frame that had been "violently thrown by the volcanic cloud".

The victim, who was over 30, had his thorax crushed. Archaeologists have not found the victim's head.

Officials said the man suffered an infection of the tibia, which may have caused him walking difficulties and impeding his escape.

The archaeological site's general director, Massimo Osanna, called it "an exceptional find", that contributes to a better "picture of the history and civilisation of the age".

COPS STOP GOLF BUGGY AT DRIVE-IN

POLICE had an "unusual" night when they stopped a stolen golf buggy at a McDonald's drive-through.

North Yorkshire Police said two teenagers were arrested and are in custody over the incident in Catterick at 3.45am.

An 18-year-old from Richmond and a man aged 19 from Pickering were both nicked on suspicion of taking without consent, a spokesman said.

Pursuit

In an earlier Facebook post North Yorkshire Police described the incident as the "most unusual job of the night" and said that officers had managed to "avoid a high speed pursuit". It added there would be "a few interesting questions for him to answer in interview".

The weird incident happened close to Catterick Golf Club.

The police's online post showed a photo of a golf buggy parked up next to a squad car with the words "club car" on the front.

MADELEY PULLS TV PLUG ON 'EVASIVE' HOME SEC

AN angry Richard Madeley terminated a live TV interview with Gavin Williamson after the Defence Secretary dodged his question FOUR times.

The ITV Good Morning Britain guest host, 62, demanded to know if Mr Williamson regretted telling Russia to "go away and shut up" after Moscow denied any responsibility for the Salisbury poison attack.

The Defence Secretary responded by paying tribute to health workers who treated Sergei and Yulia Skripal and highlighting the support offered to the UK by the international community.

But Madeley – who described Williamson's earlier comment as "Trump-esque" – repeatedly interrupted him to demand an answer, before finally pulling the plug on him.

After the Defence Sec went off screen, Madeley said: "What are these politicians like, when you give them a straight question?"

Death carnage S3 driver 'had used cannabis'

THE driver of a high-powered car involved in a crash that left six people dead after losing control at 100mph had cannabis in his system, a coroner has heard.

Kasar Jehangir's Audi S3 was driven at "excessive speed", causing him to plough sideways into a taxi coming the other way on Lee Bank Middleway, Birmingham, the city's Crown Court was told.

The cab driver, father-of-six Imtiaz Mohammed, was killed, along with passengers mum-of-two Lucy Davis and her partner, nuclear physicist Lee Jenkins.

Three of the four people in the Audi, including the driver Jehangir (above), 25, were thrown from the car, suffering fatal injuries.

Senior coroner Louise Hunt said: "Fundamentally, the cause of the collision was as a result of excessive speed (94-100mph in a 40mph zone)."

But she pointed out raised levels of the chemical THC, from cannabis, found in Mr Jehangir's system.

Justin there for shooting victim

POP star Justin Timberlake has made a surprise visit to a Texas school shooting survivor in hospital.

Sarah Salazar was among the more than two dozen people injured in the May 18 attack at Santa Fe High School.

Her mother, Sonia Lopez-Puentes, shared on Facebook a photo that showed Justin, 37, wearing a medical gown and rubber gloves as he poses next to a smiling Salazar in her hospital room.

According to an online fundraiser for Salazar, the teenager suffered a broken jaw and will need shoulder replacement surgery after the shooting.

Hailey: Tits out is not my thing!

SUPERMODEL Hailey Baldwin says she'd love to be a Bond girl but that she draws the line at posing NAKED.

Hailey, 21 (above), has set her sights on flaunting her curves in one of film's biggest franchises and dreams of becoming one of Brit secret agent James Bond's famous flings.

She has a cameo in upcoming action film Ocean's 8 but said: "I'd love to be a Bond girl, or a Charlie's Angel!"

Although she might be confident in a sexy bikini or a saucy set of lingerie, Hailey says she'd never pose naked.

The blonde added: "I have serious morals that are instilled in me because of how I was raised."

"There are some things that will never leave my structure. It will be the way I raise my kids, it's just who I am. I would never pose naked. Tits out is not my thing."

The devout Christian added: "There's a lot of things the Bible says you're not supposed to do. But I could be doing so many worse things with the access I'm given."

Boxer killed 'liar' virgin

A BOXER who killed himself MURDERED his girlfriend for allegedly lying about her virginity.

Police are investigating the death of Yee-min Huang, 27, and her Tinder boyfriend Gary Chu, 28, and claim he killed her for lying about her sex life.

Chilling CCTV footage captured Yee-min's final moments, as she followed the suspect up the stairwell to his flat.

Chu, an amateur MMA fighter and boxing trainer living in New Taipei City's Banqiao District in North Taiwan, was found hanged a few days later.

In an old Facebook post, Chu wrote: "After we met on Tinder, she lied to me saying she was a virgin. I felt deceived when I found out she had been lying."

CCTV also showed Chu carrying seven bin-bags, which authorities believe are Yee-min's scattered remains.

The High STREAK!

A BLOKE left shoppers in shock as he walked through a busy town centre completely NAKED.

The man, who was not even wearing a pair of shoes, paraded around the bustling streets of Tamworth, Staffs, on a Saturday afternoon.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Lauran James had been standing at a fruit and vegetable market when she was confronted with the "horrifying sight".

Shocking

Ms James posted the short, shocking clip to Twitter.

And the caption alongside it read: "First and last time I'll be going to Tamworth."

The man - who appears to be in his 50s - unashamedly stands facing people sat outside a cafe.

The onlookers try to face away from the streaker, who then strides on along past a Barclays bank with his head held high.

Another man can be heard shouting: "Oi, big bum!" as he continues strutting down the street in his birthday suit.

And in comments posted to her Twitter page, Lauran added: "He had a little strut to him and everything."

"I'm just glad I didn't get the front of him to be fair, absolutely minging."

Elton's HIV lecture for mate Diana

SIR Elton John is set to deliver a lecture on HIV, in memory of his close friend Diana, Princess of Wales.

The musician, 71, will set out a vision for an Aids-free future as he calls on governments and the private sector to fulfil the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goal to end the disease worldwide by 2030.

Politicians, health workers, journalists, celebrities and people living with HIV/Aids will be among the audience on June 8 as Sir Elton also reflects on his close friendship with Diana and their shared commitment to fighting the disease.

The Tiny Dancer singer – who set up the Elton John Aids Foundation in 1992 – follows in the footsteps of ex-UN chief Kofi Annan and former US president Bill Clinton who have delivered previous lectures in Diana's memory.

Wheelchair man in knife attack on cops

TWO police officers were left covered in blood after being attacked by a man in a wheelchair – wielding a giant SWORD.

Cops were called to a pub in Florida over reports that disabled Emmanuel Ruiz Mejia (above) was causing problems.

When officers arrived, the 27-year-old was sat on his hands – as if he was hiding something.

When he refused to raise his hands and tried to roll past them in his wheelchair, cops used a stun gun – that's when Mejia pulled out a sword.

During a scuffle, one cop's face was slashed while another received a cut to his hand.

Mejia has been charged with aggravated battery on a law enforcement officer.

GEMMA: ARG IS SUCH A DRAG!

HOW HE
LOOK...

He wears her dresses

REALITY TV star Gemma Collins says her TOWIE boyfriend James 'Arg' Argent is always STEALING her clothes.

Gemma, 37, reignited her relationship with her six-year on-off flame Arg, 30, earlier this year and fans of The Only Way Is Essex have seen them loved-up.

However, what they haven't seen is Arg nicking Gemma's frocks and even wearing them when he's in the house.

And his wardrobe rummaging has left Gemma seething and desperate to get her clothes back from her fella.

The busty blonde has even started worrying that Arg will eventually turn transgender.

She said: "I'm fuming about it, it really pisses me off!"

"I swear, he's going to turn into Bruce Jenner in a few years."

Skinny

"Since he's started living with me, he's been getting a blow-dry once a week – he's becoming the GC!"

"It's sweet, but James, if you're reading this, give me my loungewear back!"

The couple flew out to Tenerife recently so Arg could meet Gemma's family, but even in the sunshine Arg had to turn to his girlfriend's suitcase.

Blonde beauty Gemma added: "He didn't have any smart trousers to wear when we were going for a posh dinner."

"He ended up borrowing my white skinny jeans!"

Arg might have more clothes to borrow now, as Gemma recently launched her collection with online fashion retailer Boohoo.

HOTTIE Harley Green REFUSES to leave the house unless she's wearing her sexiest matching underwear.

The Luton-born beauty says she's got thousands of pounds worth of lingerie – and has a bra and knickers set for every single occasion.

Harley, 25, said: "I just love underwear. Ever since I was 18, I've become more and more obsessed with collecting it."

"To be honest, If I could get away with wearing just my lingerie, I would!"

Kinky

"I've got all sorts of sets too – from kinky crotchless knickers to sexy lacy bras that only just hold my 32D boobs in."

"At the minute, it's my everyday underwear that's getting used – my extra special stuff is hidden away for a night of passion."

"All I'm waiting for now is to find a hot hunk to show it all off to."

"He'll be absolutely blown away, I'm sure!"

Veggies aren't just healthier, they're hornier!

and vegans (92%) said they would be happier dating someone who didn't eat meat.

In contrast, only 32% of meat-eaters expressly said they preferred a potential partner to be a carnivore, too.

Around 3.5million people in the UK are vegetarians and they make up around 7% of the population.

IllicitEncounters.com spokesman Christian Grant said: "If you want to have an affair, date a veggie."

"They are more likely to have cheated in the past and they tend to initiate sex more quickly than meat-eaters."

We asked three Sport stunnas whether they would be put off by a potential lover's diet...

Emma Mae Mitchell

Mai Yung says...

I'm a carnivore but I wouldn't be put off by men who are vegetarian – just as long as he can devour every inch of me between the sheets!

BLOODY veggies do themselves no favours with this survey, do they?

I'm a veggie and I couldn't care less what anyone else eats – if he's fit, fun and a good f**k, send him my way!

#SEX HEALTH

Bonk often and you'll boost your memory!

By BECCA STUBBS

becca@sundaysport.co.uk

A RECENT study has found that getting frisky between the sheets can make you more INTELLIGENT.

Results have proved that sexually active folk perform better on memory tests than those couples who are a little less jiggy in the bedroom.

Sex experts analysed two years' worth of data from more than 6,000 adults aged 50 and above and tracked their diet and sleeping habits as well as their sex lives.

Couples were quizzed on how often they had a smooch, how often they fondled each other and, finally, how many times they shagged.

Those who had more regular sex were able to recall recent events better than those who didn't.

Despite the positive results, sex only had an effect on brain power for a short period of time before memories in elderly people did start to decline.

Study leader Mark Allen said: "Decline in memory performance over time was unrelated to sexual activity or emotional closeness during partnered sexual activity."

Age-related cognitive decline varies considerably from person to person and diseases like dementia are heavily influenced by genes.

Drinking

Lifestyle choices were also deemed to have an impact on such diseases – with smoking, drinking and a lack of exercise all contributing.

Sport stunner Sara Webber confessed: "I'm absolutely useless at remembering things – I always forget what I went upstairs for or what my plans are for the week."

"If having a regular shag can improve that, then I'm all for it! Plus who needs an excuse to have more sex?!"

"Sex is a huge part of our lives and we should all be bonking regularly – whether it increases our memories or not."

The 24-year-old brunette beauty added: "Older men really turn me on as well, so I guess if I bonk a bloke over 50 then I'm benefitting both his memory and my own!"

"Plus I'll be getting a proper shag too – older men always know how to please a woman."

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I love my man to boss me and have his wicked way'

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

BUSTY Angel Wicky may look like butter wouldn't melt but the naughty minx says she fantasises about being bossed about.

The 29-year-old, who boasts pert 32DD sweater-stretchers, says she loves a dominant fella who takes control in the bedroom.

Angel, from Birmingham, enjoys playing role play games where she plays hard to get and resists the fella's advances.

She said: "There is nothing hotter than a dominant man. I get so turned on by being bossed about in the bedroom."

"It depends on my mood in that moment. Sometimes I love being really submissive and eager to please."

Suck

"Having my bloke instruct me on how to lick and suck his willy, or at what pace to ride him, will make me climax faster than I can say 'Yes, Master'."

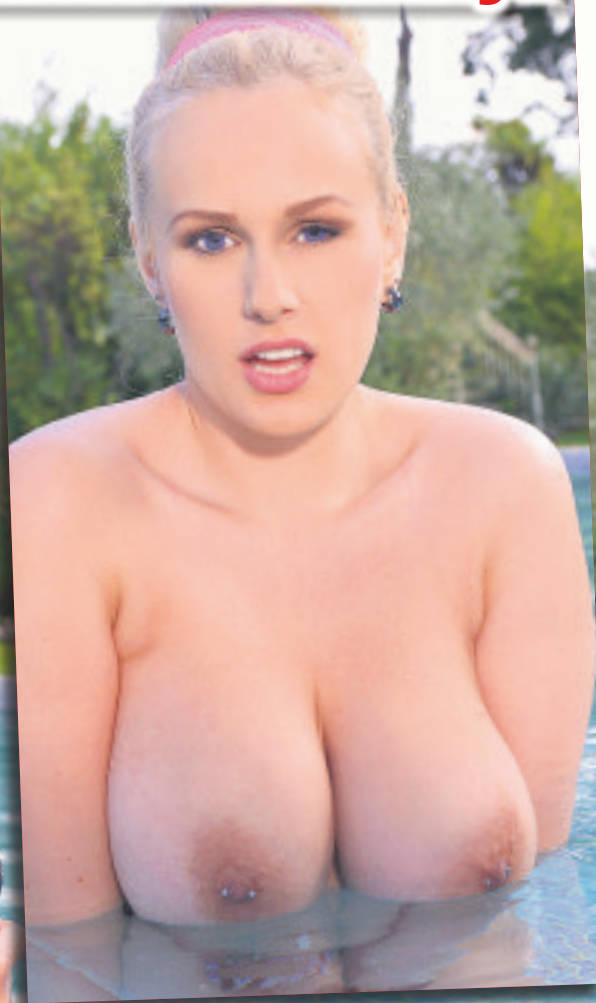

"Other times, I like to disobey and fight him and refuse to do what he tells me."

"I find it mega horny when eventually he has his wicked way with me."

"I like a bit of bondage... whips, chains, handcuffs, all that stuff."

"Getting to play in a fully kitted out dungeon would be heaven."

"I love the power games!"

A collage of images including a woman's back in lingerie, a pen, a notepad, and a speech bubble, all set against a blue background with the title "THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page". The title is in large, bold, pink and black letters. Below the title is a speech bubble with a pen tip pointing to it. The speech bubble contains a letter from "Dear Sam," written by "CC, Merseyside". The letter is about a lawn mower repair man who is a client of the writer's. The letter is written in a casual, handwritten style. Below the speech bubble is a green box with the text "Sam says... YOU don't seem to be the most tactful of men. Tell her you think she needs to try to get closer to her husband." Below this is another speech bubble with a letter from "Dear Sam," written by "DW, Herts". The letter is about a woman who is a client of the writer's. The letter is written in a casual, handwritten style. Below the speech bubble is a green box with the text "Sam says... WHY don't you give her a pedicure yourself? Then you could take your love of feet a bit further, no?". Below this is a notepad with the text "How do I stop hot lover eyeing up other women?". Below the notepad is a speech bubble with a letter from "Dear Sam," written by "NT, Hull". The letter is about a woman who is a client of the writer's. The letter is written in a casual, handwritten style. Below the speech bubble is a green box with the text "Sam says... LOOKING'S one thing, shagging's another. forget it." # THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Sam,

I AM a lawnmower repair man and I get around to quite a few big, posh houses.

As you can imagine, some of my clients are rich women who don't get a decent porking from their get-ahead business-type husbands who spend most of their days jetting around the globe drumming up trade for their multi-national companies.

I find most of these men are more interested in their business than they are their wives.

I try to give more than just a blade sharpening and I have about four clients on the go at any one time. The services I offer include giving them a damn good shafting, of course.

Lately, though, this old bird has been telling me she's going to leave her husband and she wants to shack up with me.

CC, Merseyside

Sam says...

YOU don't seem to be the most tactful of men. Tell her you think she needs to try to get closer to her husband.

Dear Sam,

SOME of my mates have been giving me real grief over my new girlfriend.

She's quite a good looker but she's – how do I put this – been around the block a bit.

She's 10 years older than me and most of my mates have shagged her at some time or another.

None of this really bothers me as I believe everyone's entitled to a past, and mine isn't exactly unblemished.

The thing that really bothers me though is her toes. I'm a bit of a foot man and it was only when I went down to give her pinkies a bit of a nibble that I saw she has really unkempt toenails and it put me off.

Some of them were yellow and her cuticles were a total mess. Nothing that a decent pedicure wouldn't sort out, but it still knocked me back a bit.

The thing is, I really do like her and want to continue seeing her. How do I tell her that her toes disgust me?

DW, Herts

Sam says...

WHY don't you give her a pedicure yourself? Then you could take your love of feet a bit further, no?

How do I stop hot lover eyeing up other women?

Dear Sam,

MY fella is forever ogling other women and it's driving me MAD!

As a couple we're really well suited and we get on in the sack like rabbits on Viagra.

He's always slipping me one and takes every opportunity he gets to ram his six-incher into me.

He says he loves me and only has eyes for me, but whenever we're out he insists on wearing dark glasses

I know just what he's up to, however. His head

Oh, and he looks total idiot wearing shades after the

It's beginning to affect our relationship as I never look at other blokes when we're out and I expect the same from him. How do I make him stop?

 $NT, Hull$

Sam says...

LOOKING'S one thing, shagging's another. forget it.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week SAM TYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Neighbour's wife is happy to watch me pull my pud!

Dear Sam,

FOR the past year I've had this wonderful fantasy of shagging my next-door neighbour's hot and gorgeous wife.

She used to be blonde but changed her colour to cherry brown because I told her that it would look sexier on her.

She's in her late 30s and I'm only 19 and it all started when I saw her topless in her garden.

I obviously noticed that her tits were huge, and as she lay back in her skimpy bikini she looked very sexy.

She was sunbathing and rubbing suntan lotion into her knockers when she saw me standing there in my shorts with my cock bulging, even though I was concentrating really hard to keep it under control.

I thought she'd run off to cover up but she smiled back and said she was trying to grab her husband's attention but now she had seen how big I was, she was glad to have mine.

I told her I'd always loved older women and my fantasy was to shag her in the garden and come all over her mouth, tits and in her arse.

I thought she'd tell me to f**k off but she was loving it.

But she said the time wasn't right and her husband would get suspicious if I kept trying to chat her up.

She certainly had me hooked with the promise of fulfilling my fantasy.

I caught her eye again later when I stood at my bedroom window and had a wank.

I was thrilled that she watched and squeezed her tits and slipped a hand into her bikini bottoms as I came all over the window.

It was lucky that I had a box of tissues handy to wipe it all up, but as she saw me cleaning it up, the neighbour's wife sucked her fingers and licked her lips, making me hard and ready to have another wank.

Nipples

Then one morning I came back from a run and saw her in her bedroom mirror as she applied her make-up.

She was topless and when she saw me she smiled and fondled her nipples. She invited me into her house and told me her hubby was away.

She then pulled my shorts down and started to suck my hard cock.

She was obviously experienced and knew what to do, looking into my eyes as she licked my pulsating shaft before taking the full length of my rod in her throat.

In minutes I'd spunked in her mouth and she was loving it, smiling as it dripped from her lips.

I then pulled down her skirt, bent her over the table and got my pole straight up her, riding her as she toyed with her clit and my balls until she came with a scream.

Since then we've gone back to wanking at each other through the window.

I'm desperate to f**k her again but my mates think she's just stringing me along.

What do you think?

TJ, Essex

Sam says...
TRY to arrange another session – but don't get caught!

Dear Sam,

I LOST my job recently and as my mate is a plumber he often needs a hand and so I got the nod for some regular work.

It's a great way to earn some extra cash and I should point out always declare what I earn.

We were on a job last week and the problem was only a leaky tap.

When I got to the house it looked a bit run down.

I knocked and a woman answered the door in her pyjamas with her long dark hair all over the place.

She looked like she'd just got out of bed after an long shagging session – but pretty soon she was having one!

She grabbed my knob without so much as a hello as soon as I was through the door.

She then dragged me upstairs and proceeded to ride my cock off all ways up.

She begged me to finish off all over her face and tits and as you can imagine I was happy to oblige, leaving her front a creamy mess.

Then my mate walked in and told me if I ever do that with a customer again he'll fire me.

What did I do wrong?

MW, Glasgow

Sam says...

I THINK he's just jealous that he didn't manage to get some, but it might be best to keep your nose – and your knob – clean from now on.

Row with missus led to hotel romp

Dear Sam,

I HAD a blazing row with the missus the other day over me not picking up my underpants, or something like that – she would not bloody stop.

So I decided to go out and get pissed in order to let her cool off a bit.

I went to a boozer on the edge of town to make sure she wouldn't be able to find me and while there I met an old girlfriend. And out of spite I suggested we carry on our intimate chat at a local Travelodge.

We booked into a room and almost immediately she pulled off her top and wriggled out of her panties before making a grab for my trousers.

I wasted no time at all and dived between her thighs to push my tongue deep into her neatly trimmed and moist fanny. She then rolled over on to her tummy and took my erect dick into her mouth right up to the hilt.

When I could stand it no longer I bent her over the bed and took her doggy-style.

And that was just for starters. She was remarkable and wanted to do things my girlfriend wouldn't.

However, she has made it clear that it was just a one-off because she has a regular fella and is getting married later this year.

When our session came to an end I dropped her off in town, which is where I made my mistake. My wife's sister saw us and spilled the beans.

Of course, she hit the roof and wants a divorce. I've tried all the lies I know to get me out of this mess but she is refusing to forgive my indiscretion.

I'm desperate to win her back because her old man's loaded and pays for our holidays. What can I do?

AH, Lancs

Sam says...

LEARN how to defuse a row in future – and meantime book yourself a holiday for one!

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

KRYSTAL SWIFT

BUSTY babe Krystal Swift tops labourer Luke Dennis's fantasy list.

Luke, 29, from Grimsby, regularly fantasises about getting jiggy with the Brighton-born 34G blonde bombshell.

He asked for this photo of Krystal, saying: "I know I can count on my favourite paper to deliver the best boobs in Britain – thanks!"

JAMIE FEATHER

PLUMBER Calum Chipping says that if ever his pipe needs some attention, he just turns to topless photos of glamour girl Jamie Feather.

Calum, 46, from Hartlepool, says ogling 28-year-old Jamie's 30D boobs always helps him relax.

He said: "Jamie is a proper firecracker, and being from Bradford she's a northern lass as well so that's a bonus."

"Catching a glimpse of her gets my rod all stiff – but one look at her photos and I've soon sorted out my problem!"

ADELE STEPHENS

AVID Sport reader Kevin Hilton begged us for a photo of his all-time favourite model, Adele Stephens.

Loyal Kevin, 61, from Taunton, who's been buying and reading the Sport for more than two decades, says iconic pin-up girl Adele, who's now 48, is his ideal woman.

So Kev, here's a throwback photo of stunning Adele, from Wakefield, flaunting her 34D chest in one of the sexiest shots we've ever seen.

Haven't seen your favourite model for a while? Drop us a note and we'll put her in the paper! Email request@sundaysport.co.uk

SPEARMINT RHINO BABE OF THE WEEK

Sadie
FROST

STUNNING Sadie Rose is looking to be wined and dined by a fella who's got looks as well as brains.

The 28-year-old, from Staffordshire, is on the hunt for her perfect match and with 32DD boobs like hers, we reckon her search won't last long.

Sadie posed up a storm for this jaw-dropping photo shoot and said: "I get really turned on by intelligent men – I like someone who has wit and can hold a decent conversation."

Cocky

"Tight jeans always go a long way, too – that way I get a hint of the goods!"

"Although arrogant, ignorant and cocky men can walk the other way, they're such a turn-off."

By BECCA STUBBS becca@sundaysport.co.uk

"I love being wined and dined, but I'm also an adventure lover with a flirty wild side, so surprise me with something a bit different!"

"I love a guy who is kind to animals and has a softer side – I'm a massive sucker for that."

"I also want someone who is a little bit weird – just like me!"

Spearmint Rhino has a number of gentlemen's clubs around the world which boast the most beautiful dancers.

If you can't make it to a club, you can find Spearmint Rhino girls at boxing and Mixed Martial Arts fights around the country, or at the British Superbike rounds.

THE WINNING POST

Secret's out to win

RIPON put on a tasty evening card and I hope SANDRA'S SECRET (NAP) can double up after an impressive win last time out.

Les Eyre's mare is clearly in good form and although she may not have too much mileage left in her current mark the fact she is in form stands her in good stead as some of her rivals are struggling to find theirs.

Silvestre De Sousa maintains the partnership and another bold show is expected as she looks well treated at the weights.

Pipers Note is perhaps one to note as he loves Ripon but I think he may need a little bit of respite from the handicap-apper before he sparks a return to form.

The opening race at Ripon can go the way of SMILE A MILE. Mark Johnston's colt is bred to be a lot better than his opening run and I think he might well be.

By BEN MORGAN

He was well backed on debut but ran terribly and it was too bad to be true.

Johnston's two year olds have been in good form and it wouldn't surprise me if he put his first run behind him and made a late bid to get onto his yard's Royal Ascot team.

Richard Hannon takes an army of horses to Ripon, a track where he enjoys plenty of success with very few runners.

All his entries tonight will have to be respected but I am interested in one of his more low key runners.

MISTER MAESTRO could be a different proposition this year now a gelding.

Hannon has done well with similar types already this season and if he can put his two year old form behind him he could prove to be a lot better than his current mark.

Meanwhile, at Nottingham this afternoon, it could be telling that James Doyle rides TRICORN rather than Seniority.

He and William Haggas have become quite a force this year but he jumps ship today in order to ride John Gosden's charge, who is a lot higher in the handicap.

He had the look of a progressive horse last year before injury curtailed his season and he would have needed his comeback run at Newmarket.

Now race fit, he should be able to make his presence felt in a race of this nature.

CHAMP: Michael Bisping

Bisping calls time on MMA career

CAGE FIGHTING

MIXED martial arts legend Michael Bisping has decided to hang up his gloves after a stellar career in the sport.

The only British fighter to win a UFC title is calling it a day after a couple of defeats before Christmas.

Bisping shot to fame when being called in at a couple of weeks' notice to fight Luke Rockhold in 2016.

Few gave him a chance of victory but he stunned the champion and took the middleweight crown in one of the sport's biggest ever upsets.

He won his first defence of the belt against Dan Henderson before losing it to Georges St-Pierre in November.

He was then battered by Kelvin Gastelum and it became clear that he wouldn't get another shot at a title.

Bisping said: "I've teased this for a long time now — I might fight again, I might not — and unfortunately it's not a fight that I'm announcing, I am going to announce my official retirement from mixed martial arts."

"It's been a long journey. I started training in 2003 so 15 years as a professional fighter and 12 or 13 years in the UFC. You can't do it forever, I've done it for a long time."

Blind

Bisping still holds the record for most UFC wins at 20 and 30 victories in MMA as a whole.

"The Count" is 39 now and has a problem with his eyes that has meant another fight could leave him blind.

He suffered a detached retina earlier in his career that required surgery. The injury was aggravated in the bout against Gastelum.

Bisping said: "After the Gastelum fight, I started having issues with my good eye."

"I said I was going to be done fighting then — but then I did contemplate another fight."

"I was negotiating with the UFC to fight Rashad Evans in London which is probably a good thing that that never happened."

"It ain't worth it. I mean, what else am I going to do? I've won the belt, I've had tons of wins, I've done everything I set out to achieve, what's the point?"

"You've got to know when to walk away. I'm almost 40 years old and the time is now."

OUR BLUEPRINT TO RESCUE THREE

SEND FOR CAPTAIN MORGAN

One-day skipper can sort England's rum Test form

ENGLAND are pinning their hopes on Keaton Jennings for the second Test against Pakistan.

The Three Lions' batsmen were all over the place at Lord's — making a right mess of both innings.

It's just as well number seven Jos Buttler and eight Dom Bess hadn't shared a 125-run stand, the defeat could have been by even more than nine wickets.

It was only the second time England have lost a May test and against a team ranked seventh best in the world. Again it was the top order that failed miserably. Alastair Cook made a good 70 in the first innings and couldn't do much about his dismissal in the second, when a good ball got him.

But Mark Stoneman was beaten all ends up by a simple delivery for his first downfall and a slow turner accounted for him in the second dig.

It's hard to see where he goes from here when it comes to Test cricket.

His 13 runs across two innings are nothing new and he looks out of his depth at this level. The selectors have sent for Lancashire opener Jennings, who has already come up short in the five-day game.

He has worked on his technique since last being dropped and has scored some useful runs for the Red Rose county this season.

Head

It will take a lot more than just changing Cook's opening partner yet again to sort this team out.

It's time for coach Trevor Bayliss and new head selector Ed Smith to get radical — and look to the past for a solution. Back in the day, it was not uncommon to select a good captain even if his game wasn't really up to Test standard.

The best example of this is Mike Brearley who brilliantly led England to a famous Ashes win in 1981.

He wasn't called up until he was 34 and had always been a moderate county cricketer at best.

But he was an excellent captain and he brought that vital skill to the team.

Brearley went in high up the order but averaged just 23 in Test cricket.

But he played 39 times because he brought out the best in the players around him.

There's no obvious Brearley figure in county cricket at the moment — but we do have an all-conquering white ball team.

They have been superbly led by Eoin Morgan in the past couple of years particularly.

The Three Lions sit proudly on top of the world rankings — ahead of one-day specialists like India.

The Irishman has the knack of getting the best out of his players and, crucially, his recent experience is all

LIONS FROM TEST MATCH OBLIVION!

NATURAL BORN WINNER: Eoin Morgan can help the Test match team

OUR TEST TEAM

1. Keaton Jennings
2. Jonny Bairstow
3. Alastair Cook
4. Joe Root
5. Eoin Morgan (captain)
6. Ben Stokes
7. Jos Buttler (wkt)
8. Dom Bess
9. Mark Wood
10. Stuart Broad
11. Jimmy Anderson

about winning rather than losing because he's been away from the Test side while it's been in the doldrums.

Record

Morgan could come back into the side — once his fractured finger is better. His average of 31 is better than current number five Dawid Malan (29) and James Vince (25) who is on the fringes.

It's clear that Joe Root is not enjoying the England captaincy.

His record in charge of the team is poor and his average has gone down slightly since he succeeding Cook. Rumours coming out of the camp continually suggest that Stuart Broad and Jimmy Anderson have far too much influence on the team — such as when choosing to bat rather than bowl at Lord's because there was 2mm too little grass on the pitch.

There was also an alarming chopping and changing of close-in fielders during that match.

The slip cordon continually changed and catches went down left, right and centre.

A stronger captain could stamp his mark on the team and make sure there is more of a gameplan — and that plans are stuck to.

So out goes a struggling Malan and in comes Morgan as captain and Root can concentrate on what he does best, which is batting.

Gloves

And that's another point worth looking at — where does the Yorkshireman bat.

He wants to bat at four and with good reason because his average is eight runs better there than at three.

This is where another leaf could be taken out of the one-day team's book. Jonny Bairstow opens against the white ball and does it very well. So why not give the wicket-keeping gloves to Buttler and move Jonny up to open?

There could be one more radical step to take here too. Every time a new opener comes in alongside Cook, it's as though they are carrying all the other failed partners the Essex man has had on their back.

There's extra pressure — and the temptation to hide a little as very much the junior partner.

So change that too — and solve the problematic number three position. Let Jennings open with Bairstow and move Cook down to number three. It frees the openers to play their own game and makes the top order look more solid.

Then Root can come in at four with new skipper Morgan five, Ben Stokes six and wicket-keeper Buttler at seven. Thrown in Bess at eight and that's a decent line-up.

We'll leave the bowlers for now — with more runs on the board and a better captain, they are still more than capable of taking 20 wickets in English conditions.

DERBY DREAM: Dettori

Frankie's flying for Hazapour in Derby

HORSE RACING

FRANKIE Dettori is confident of winning Saturday's Derby on Hazapour.

The Italian has been riding work in Ireland on Dermot Weld's colt who runs in the same Aga Khan colours as Shergar.

Dettori said: "I came to ride Hazapour this morning for Mr Weld and it was nice to see Pat Smullen watching the work as well.

"It was pretty much a routine gallop. I didn't come to press any buttons, I just came to have a feel of the horse and get to know his character.

"I was very pleased with what I saw. He was a very willing partner and he won his Derby trial very well, so it's all systems go for Saturday."

Dettori is looking for this third Derby win after taking it on board Authorized in 2007 and Golden Horn in 2015.

Weld knows what it takes to win the Blue Riband too thanks to Harzand's heroics two years ago — another for the Aga Khan.

Dettori said: "His form is very good. The Aga Khan is steeped in Derby history and it's a privilege for me to wear his colours.

Master

"I'm riding a horse that has won one of the well known trials in Ireland. Of course I'm looking forward to it and I'm hoping for a massive run.

"The trainer is very pleased with the horse. He's a master trainer who has done it before and he's not going to come to Epsom for the day out.

"He's going to give a good account of himself."

Thanks to the positive vibes and booking of Dettori, Hazapour's price has fallen to single-figures after being 16/1 a couple of days ago.

Aidan O'Brien star Saxon Warrior — who won the 2,000 Guineas last time — is massive 4/6 favourite with John Gosden's Roaring Lion 6/1.

Earlier on Saturday's Derby card, Sovereign Debt will defend his Diomed Stakes crown.

Trainer Ruth Carr has the nine-year-old in good shape and he'll take his chance as long as the going isn't like a road.

She said: "He seems all right. Hopefully the ground will stay on the easy side. As long as it does, he'll run."

CHARLIE MCCANN

WITH HIS SPORTING ODDS AND ENDS

Hornets could pay for selling Doucoure

BIG LOSS:
Watford will regret it if they sell
Doucoure

WE now know the make-up of the 20 clubs who will compete in the Premier League next season with Fulham taking the last spot after their Wembley triumph over Aston Villa on Saturday.

Any one of five teams could win the PL but the battle to avoid the drop is, arguably, a more interesting market.

Cardiff, Huddersfield and Fulham are all 5/4 to go down but it is Watford at 3/1 with BetVictor that makes more appeal.

Surprised

The Hornets look likely to lose their player-of-the-season Abdoulaye Doucoure with the midfielder 4/1 to join Arsenal and Spurs this summer at BetVictor.

The Gunners could certainly do with a top class midfield player and I would be surprised if the Frenchman were still at Vicarage Road next term.

Liverpool (6/1 at BetVictor) looked to be his preferred choice but, with midfielders Naby Keita and Fabinho already signing on at Anfield and just Emre Can on his way out at Liverpool, it would be a surprise if the Reds had Doucoure on their radar.

ARSENAL DEAL WOULD STING

Watford manager Javi Gracia welcomed back former Chelsea man Nathaniel Chalobah for the last 20 minutes of their trip to Old Trafford on the final day of the season, but they would miss the energy, goals and aggression of Doucoure and 3/1 looks a huge price.

Gareth Bale and a couple of costly goalkeeping mistakes were the difference between the sides in the Champions League final at the weekend and, after such an ineffective performance in Kiev, it is hard to see why Cristiano Ronaldo should be odds on (1/2) to win the Ballon d'Or this year ahead of the World Cup.

Much will depend surely on the outcome of the World Cup this summer and the recommendation is Kevin De Bruyne (33/1 with Bet-victor). The Belgian playmaker was integral in Manchester City's record-breaking — and never to be equalled — 100 points and 100 goals season and if Les Diables Rouges go far in Russia then De Bruyne is likely to have played a major part in their success.

Note Bale is 7/4 to sign for Spurs before the end of the transfer window this summer and the suggestion is that one of Bale and Ronaldo will not be at the Bernabeu next term.

★ The Derby remains the most famous Flat horserace in the world and the form of Hazpaur's Derbinstown Stud Derby Trial win at Leopardstown was given a huge boost when the fourth home Platinum Warrior comfortably won a Group 3 at the Curragh on Sunday.

Hazpaur will be ridden by Frankie Dettori at Epsom on Saturday and the nephew of the dual Derby winner Harzand (Epsom and Curragh) is now 10/1 (from 14s) at BetVictor for the Derby.

I remain keen to take on Saxon Warrior at the odds (4/6 at BetVictor) given possible stamina limitations whilst acknowledging his Guineas' win is the best form by some way going into the race.

Some good racing under both codes today although we have to wait for this evening for the nap.

Too Much Too Soon (7.15) was backed as if defeat was out of the question (2m 6f) when third at Market Rasen on his first start for Dan Skelton.

He is entitled to come on for the run and this evening's two-and-a-half mile trip at Warwick looks ideal.

The handicapper may have taken a chance leaving him on the same mark and I feel connections can recoup losses.

BACK IN FORM: Maria Sharapova

Maria fights back as Kyle and Rafa win

TENNIS: FRENCH OPEN

TELEVIEWED tennis fans had the curtains drawn (just to keep out the sunlight of course) as Maria Sharapova battled her way through at the French Open.

It looked as though the Russian would go out at the first round, which would have had her fans reaching for the tissues. But she came back to defeat Richel Hogenkamp in three sets.

There was good news for British tennis too as Kyle Edmund booked his place in the last 64. He looked impressive against young Aussie Alex De Minaur in straight sets — 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

The British No1 is seeded at a Grand Slam for the first time and with good reason judged on this effort.

The 19-year-old from down under was simply outgunned by the Brit.

Edmund will now take on Hungary's Marton Fucsovics in the second round.

The Brit is filling the void left by injured Andy Murray and has climbed to No17 in the world.

It took the Yorkshireman just 29 minutes to bag the first set with two breaks easing the way.

He kept things tidy to nick a single break for the second set after defending a couple of break points on his own serve. De

IMPRESSIVE: Edmund

Mineur looked like a teenager as frustration took hold and Edmund broke early in the third set to secure the win.

Rafael Nadal had a few problems finishing off his first round win against Simone Bolelli.

The Spaniard came back for day two after rain ruined the game on Monday.

He trailed 3-0 in the third set when the downpour forced the players off.

He wasted no time in breaking when the game restarted and it was all plain sailing from there.

The third set went to a tiebreak that Nadal won 11-9.

No3 seed Marin Cilic was also hit by a rain delay before beating Australian James Duckworth in straight sets.

LAMPS LIT UP BY DERBY

Youth coach Morris also set to move

FRANK Lampard is set to take over as Derby County manager — and bring former Chelsea midfielder Jody Morris as his assistant.

The England legend has been in talks with the Rams about succeeding Gary Rowett, who walked out to join Stoke last week.

Lampard has been trying to get into management since hanging up his boots and came close to taking over at Ipswich. But it looks as though Pride Park will be his next port of call.

The 39-year-old is happy to start in the Championship, especially at one of the bigger names like former Premier League Derby.

Negotiations have been going on for a couple of weeks and most issues have been ironed out.

Lampard is keen to take the job and the Rams want him in the hotseat.

Lamps said: "There's been interest from Derby and I've been speaking with them.

"I'm ambitious and I want to become a manager at some point.

"It's a big club, with a big tradition and a big history, which I really like.

"We'll carry on speaking when I go home, and we'll see what happens."

But Lampard's first job in management won't be easy as Derby need to cut their cloth after failing to get promoted last season.

They crept into the play-off spots after a disappointing second half of the campaign. But there were knocked out by eventual winners Fulham, prompting Rowett to leave.

They had one of the biggest budgets in the division and noises from Pride Park suggest that will have to change.

It could be a wise move bringing in Morris as No2 because he has tasted great success with the Chelsea under-18 team.

Lost

They have won the past two Youth Cups while he's been in charge.

Ipswich look set to fill their vacancy with Paul Hurst who has just lost the League One play-off final with Shrewsbury.

The Tractor Boys have been looking for a new boss since Mick McCarthy left in March.

They have been granted permission by the Shrews to speak to their gaffer — but they will have to fork out compensation if the deal happens.

The 43-year-old is highly rated having got Grimsby Town back into the Football League before taking over at Gay Meadow two seasons ago.

He steered Shrewsbury to their best finish in almost 20 years before losing the play-off final 2-1 to Rotherham after extra-time at Wembley.

LOYAL: England fans

£5,000 to watch England in Russia

It will cost around £5,000 to follow England at the World Cup in Russia — and that's just for the group matches.

The Football Supporters' Federation have polled fans heading out for next month's tournament about how much it is costing.

The Three Lions — and their followers — are being dragged right across the massive country for the opening three matches.

They take on Tunisia in Volgograd, then Panama in Nizhny before finishing against Belgium in Kaliningrad.

Going from London to the three games is just over 4,000 miles. Going by car or rail would take a total of five days just travelling.

Fantastic

Even by air, you clock up more than 13 hours without all the waiting around at airports thrown in.

The survey found that most fans will spend between £3,000-£5,000 on the trip.

FSF chief executive Kevin Miles said: "England fans are renowned for their fantastic support at tournaments, and even across the vast distances between Russian cities the die-hard fans will be there, following the Three Lions.

"Whether by road, rail or air, thousands will be there every step of the way supporting Gareth Southgate's men this summer, hopefully all the way to the final in Moscow on July 15th."

YOUNG DRAGONS BREATHE FIRE

JOE LEDLEY paid tribute to Wales' younger players after they played their part in a 0-0 draw with Mexico.

The Dragons looked the better side in front of 82,000 fans in America.

Dragons boss Ryan Giggs gave the next generation a chance with Brenford midfielder Chris Mepham catching the eye on debut.

There were also first appearances for Leicester youngster George Thomas and Manchester City's Matt Smith.

Ledley was pleased with the way the new faces coped against a team that's heading for the World Cup. He said: "It's great to see these young players come through and hopefully there's many more caps to come.

"There's a good mixture here, with the youngsters coming through and a lot of experienced players.

"I think we'll see that in the next campaign."

The next challenge for Wales is the Nations League where they will take on Ireland at home and Denmark away.

Ledley is full of confidence heading into that after their positive show against the Mexicans. He added: "It wasn't that long ago we played Mexico at this time of year and lost 2-0, so we've come a long way from there.

"They're in the World Cup and we always knew it was going to be a difficult game.

Performance

"Some of us finished our season two or three weeks ago and we were always going to be up against it.

"But we worked our socks off and showed our character. It was a great performance."

Ben Davies was one of the more experienced players to praise Mepham after he slotted in at centre-back when skipper Ashley Williams limped off in the first half.

The Tottenham full-back said: "Losing Ash was a big blow but the boys who came in did ever so well.

"It's something to build on for both of them, but Chris deserved to start the way he's been training.

"People will say there's a lack of experience there but it doesn't matter when he's shown the quality he has.

"The manager has shown faith in those who have done well on the training pitch and I think that's the right thing to do."

Fred makes Reds wait on £55m deal

MANCHESTER United may have to wait until after the World Cup to secure a deal for Brazil midfielder Fred.

The Red Devils are close to paying £55million to Shakhtar Donetsk for the 25-year-old.

The player himself is reportedly excited about moving to a big European club — but has stopped short of committing himself to Old Trafford.

Reports from inside the Brazil camp suggest that if the deal is not done in the next couple of days, then it would have to wait until after the World Cup finals have finished in July.

Manchester City have also been sniffing around and there is interest from Spain, which could grow if he does well in Russia.

Brazil football expert Tim Vickery believes Fred could be ending up on the wrong side of Manchester.

He said: "He's a busy little left-footed midfielder. Very dynamic, and he's got some quality. He's developing as well."

Excited

"I could understand City's interest. When they played Shakhtar in the Champions League, Pep Guardiola was very impressed with him."

"You could see Fred fitting into a dynamic Man City midfield. He's almost like a smaller left-footed version of Fernandinho."

"To my surprise, it seems City have dropped aside and United have come in there."

"I know that Fred is very excited about the prospect of playing for a top club in the Premier League."

All the talk has been

BLOCKER: Sanchez

about Gareth Bale heading to Old Trafford this summer after he made it clear to Real Madrid that he wouldn't stand another season as a bit-part player.

The Welshman is due to have talks with manager Zinedine Zidane and board members in the Spanish capital about his future.

They have slapped a £200m price tag on him.

But European football expert Gabrielle Marcotti believes United could afford Bale — but might not want him because they have Alexis Sanchez.

He said: "The fact of the matter is Gareth Bale makes so much money, it's close to $30m-a-year, that there is very few teams in the world that can afford Gareth Bale."

"And there's fewer teams still for whom need Gareth Bale and for whom he would be a fit."

In fact, I'll make this very easy, it's really still only Manchester United.

"And now that they've signed Alexis Sanchez, I don't see how they're going to move for him."

Klopp wants two more buys over the line by World Cup

OBLAK MAGIC:
The Atletico Madrid
stopper is on Klopp's summer shopping list

LIVERPOOL boss Jurgen Klopp is determined to get his transfer business done before the World Cup starts — with two more massive signings in the pipeline.

The Reds surprised their rivals by announcing a £44million deal for Monaco midfielder Fabinho without anyone knowing about it.

Klopp is determined to get the two more big signings he wants before the World Cup kicks off in less than three weeks time.

That means he knows the

By JOHN ANTHONY

players he will be working with next season — and their prices can't rocket after doing well in Russia.

The German knows his squad isn't good enough after their 3-1 Champions League final defeat against Real Madrid in Kiev on Saturday.

He realises that he must beef up his midfield and that's why Fabinho has come in with Naby Keita already bought from Red Bull Leipzig earlier this year.

Klopp wants to properly replace Philippe Coutinho who moved to Barcelona in January for just over £140m.

The man he wants is France playmaker Nabil Fekir who is a key part of Les Bleus' World Cup squad.

Assists

The 24-year-old shone for Lyon in the French league last season and is very much in the mould of Coutinho.

He scored 23 goals in 40 appearances and threw in eight assists for good measure.

Liverpool have put a £60m bid on the table and the French side are being cagey about any deal, claiming to have had no contact with the Reds.

Fabinho saw him at close quarters at Monaco last season and is keen for him to make the same move as he's just done.

The Brazilian said: "He is a very good player, of international level."

"In Ligue 1, it is not only this season that he has demonstrated things. It's been a few years since he demonstrates his quality."

"If he comes, it will be good too."

Fekir seems to want to wait until after the World Cup to sort out his future but

TER CHAMPIONS LEAGUE HEARTACHE

TALENTED FEKIR:
Klopp is keen to buy the France
playmaker from Lyon has left the door very much open.

He said: "If Fabinho is to be my future team-mate?"

"I will discuss my future after the World Cup not before."

"If I will sign somewhere before the World Cup? Honestly, I don't know."

Slicker

Should Fekir arrive at Anfield it will make the midfield a very different proposition to the one that played against Madrid — with Jordan Henderson unable to pass the ball forwards, Gini Wijnaldum working hard but delivering little and James Milner starting to look like the veteran he is.

Fabinho, Keita and Fekir would be a lot quicker and slicker, although defensively Henderson may still slot in behind them.

For all the supportive words coming out of Anfield after his double horror-show in Kiev, Loris Karius is unlikely to be Klopp's No1 when the new season kicks off.

But this is where he could have the most trouble signing a top-class keeper.

His first choice is Roma's Alisson who is keeping Man City stopper Ederson out of the Brazil team that heads to Russia.

The 25-year-old would be happy to join the Reds but the Italians are still smarting for letting Mo Salah go for a bargain £36m last summer.

Stumped

They feel Liverpool mugged them for the Egyptian and have slapped an £80m price tag on their other major asset.

That didn't put the Reds off when they stumped up £75m to Southampton for Virgil Van Dijk and, so far, they have only really spent the Coutinho money even if Fekir arrives. Real Madrid are also interested in Alisson which will do nothing to help the price.

A second target is Atletico Madrid goalie Jan Oblak.

The 25-year-old has established himself as one of the best keepers on the planet and is believed to have an £80m release clause in his contract.

The Spaniards paid just £14m for Benfica for him four years ago so could bank a massive profit.

Slovenia didn't make the World Cup so he is available for talks and has proven himself over a longer period than Alisson.

ON HIS MARCOS:
Silva should be at Everton soon

Silva lining as Marco looks set for Toffees

EVERTON are "99 per cent" certain of naming Marco Silva as their new manager.

The former Watford boss has been in talks with the Goodison boys about taking over from Big Sam Allardyce.

He should be appointed by the weekend after reaching an agreement to move to Merseyside.

Allardyce lasted just over six months in charge after being brought in when Ronald Koeman left the Toffees staring at a relegation battle.

Despite steering them to the top eight, the home fans hated his style of football and wanted him out.

Now he's gone, Everton can turn to the man they wanted all along.

When Koeman left before Christmas they offered Watford millions to release Silva but the Hornets refused.

Ironically they then sacked him, saying his head had been turned by Everton.

Tapped

The Toffees' majority owner Fahrad Moshiri has kept up his interest in Silva and will hand him a sizeable transfer budget to revamp the squad.

There could yet be some legal wrangling with Watford still insisting that Everton tapped up their then manager.

The Hornets and the Portuguese are mired in their own row, with the former manager wanting a payout for losing his job.

Silva made his name in this country when almost saving Hull City from relegation despite having no money to spend in the January window.

ADMIRER: Moshiri

After they went into the Championship, he was snapped up by the Hornets and made a blistering start to last season.

He had them in the hunt for a Europa League spot before Watford's form tailed off when he was denied the Everton job so publicly.

His biggest success in Portugal came when guiding Estoril from bankruptcy into the Europa League.

He then moved to Sporting Lisbon where he led them to the Portuguese Cup.

League success came with Olympiakos in Greece but it's more his potential than record that is interesting the Toffees.

They are looking for a young, dynamic manager who will bring a more fluid, attacking style to the club.

That's in contrast to Allardyce's effective but boring approach that brought such hatred from the home fans despite the good results.
